DESIGN PROCESS

DISCOVERY & MIND MAP

The process begins with a deep dive into understanding your brand. During the discovery phase, I gather information about your vision, values, target audience, and industry.

This leads to mind mapping, where I brainstorm and visualize all potential ideas, themes, and emotions associated with your brand.

This step helps uncover the core concepts that will drive the design.

RESEARCH & INSPIRATION

With a clear understanding of your brand, I move on to research. This involves analyzing your industry, competitors, and design trends to ensure the logo will stand out while being relevant.

I also look into color psychology and typography that resonate with your brand's message.

During this phase, I gather visual inspiration by creating a moodboard that sets the tone and direction for the design.

SKETCHING

Armed with research and inspiration, I begin sketching out ideas. This phase is all about exploring various shapes, symbols, and layouts.

Sketching allows me to experiment freely and iterate on concepts quickly. The best ideas from this stage are selected for further refinement, forming the foundation of the final logo design.

DIGITALIZE

The selected sketches are then digitized using design software. In this stage, I refine and polish the concepts, experimenting with color schemes, typography, and layout.

Multiple variations are created to explore different possibilities, ensuring the logo is versatile and adaptable across different applications.

I fine-tune every detail, from spacing to alignment, to ensure the logo is visually balanced and effective.

PRESENTATION

Finally, I present the strongest logo concepts to you. Each option is accompanied by an explanation of the design choices and how they align with your brand's identity. We'll discuss the strengths of each concept, gather your feedback, and make any final adjustments. The result is a refined, professional logo that represents your brand with clarity and impact.

Sketches

I explore various ideas and concepts through quick, hand-drawn illustrations. This phase allows for creative freedom, where I experiment with different shapes, symbols, and layouts without the constraints of digital tools. By sketching, I can quickly iterate on ideas, refining and evolving them until I identify the strongest concepts that will form the foundation for the final logo design.

Color

I carefully select and experiment with color schemes that align with your brand's identity and evoke the desired emotions. Each color choice is intentional, considering factors like color psychology, industry trends, and the overall impact on the logo's visual appeal. The goal is to create a harmonious palette that not only enhances the logo's design but also resonates with your target audience, ensuring that the final logo is both striking and meaningful.

The logo features a Circle representing harmony, unity. It is imperative to maintain a uniform application of this logo across all brand-related contexts.

Type Exploration

I explore different fonts and typographic styles to find the best fit for your brand.
